Alright, just one more comment and I think we'll have this all settled.

I think it would be helpful for LB Client Service and Production to be cc:'d on the final copy, and significant revisions, send out by either Experti or PM (as Russell did with the Club B & H plan last week). That way the info sharing loop will be closed and the info will get directly into our hands.

If that creates a problem I'm not thinking of let me know.

John
